Date: April 11, 2015 at 12:58 PM
To: Clerk of the Court

I have been notified that I am a Settlement Class Member.

I do not like this settlement as I never wrote the O% Access Check #53487 dated July 7,2013.Copy enclosed.

This check was fraudulently written on my account by another person in the amount of $3500.

However,in spite of police report and federal trade commission report regarding this fraud ,Capital One is holding me responsible for repaying this balance check.

Brian C. Capital One Fraud Investigation

Dear Brian C,

I have followed the recommended steps regarding my fraud claim and am enclosing the documents.

The Leawood Police report is #2014-1930.

The FTC Ref. No. is# 54536809.

I am also enclosing a copy of check he wrote on my Coyote Creek account.

In addition I am enclosing a copy of check he wrote himself on my Discover account.

I had no debt on my Discover card but once he wrote himself a check he had to begin to make minimum monthly payments in order to maintain his status so it appears he wrote my account a check so that he would have money in order to make payments. Then of course he needed to make payments to Capital One and so on.

I in no way authorized Mr. Krehbiel to write access check #6098.

I never authorized Mr. Krehbiel to write any access check from any account.

I was not even aware that he had access checks in his possession.

I did not sign the check although the signature closely resembles my signature.

In the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia
Murr v. Capital One Bank (USA), N.A.
Case No. 1:13-CV-1091

You received this card because Capital One's records indicate you used a 0% Access Check or No Hassle Check between August 1, 2008 and January 2, 2015. A class action lawsuit alleges that Capital One breached its contracts and violated consumer fraud laws and the Truth in Lending Act by requiring certain minimum payments and charging certain interest amounts on purchases after customers used the 0% Checks. Capital One denies all allegations and has asserted many defenses. A Settlement has been proposed.
